Scouting The Opponent: Lawrence has struggled this season, losing their last six games, and 12 of their last 13. They are currently in ninth place in the Midwest Conference, one year after qualifying for the MWC Tournament. One of their 11 conference losses this season came at the hands of the Red Hawks, who won a 54-52 nailbiter in Appleton on January 12th. Lawrence's offense has struggled at times this year, in part because of injuries. The Vikings are eighth in the MWC in scoring, averaging 59.2 points per game. They also rank last in the conference in 3-point shooting, making just 21.7 percent of their shots from long-range.

Player To Watch: Caresse Reiland is emerging as one of the best players in the Midwest Conference, in just her second season with the Vikings. Reiland is the only player in the MWC to rank in the top three in both scoring and rebounding. The Wauwatosa, Wis. native is third in scoring, averaging 15.1 points per game, while also ranking second in rebounding with 10.2 rebounds per contest. She is one of two players that is averaging a double-double for the season. Reiland also ranks second in the conference in blocked shots, averaging 2.63 per game.

LOOKING AHEAD: Ripon will look to end their home season on a positive note next Wednesday, as they'll host Carroll College on February 20th at 5:30 p.m. Carroll is currently second in the Midwest Conference standings and has already clinched a berth to the Midwest Conference tournament. The Pioneers defeated Ripon 61-48 earlier this season and have won four consecutive games against the Red Hawks.

GO-TO GIRL: Ripon freshman Emily Meyer seems to improve each game she plays. After coming off the bench during the first half of the season, Meyer has cracked the starting lineup in each of the past 11 games, leading the team in scoring in the last six contests. In those six games, Meyer is averaging 18 points, while also pulling down 8.3 rebounds.

STEALING RECORDS: Jessica DeHamer is on the verge of etching her name in the Ripon College single season record book. The sophomore has recorded 45 steals this season, which is five away from moving into 10th place for a single season. If DeHamer keeps up her pace of 2.3 steals per game, she will move into ninth in that category.

OUT-REBOUNDING THE COMPETITION: One of the things the Red Hawks have done consistently well this season is crashing the boards. Ripon has outrebounded their opponents in 13 of their 20 games, including their last five, and six of their last seven. They are averaging 3.1 more rebounds per game than their opponents, which ranks them fifth in that category among MWC teams.

SCORING STARTERS: Despite averaging an MWC third-worst 59.2 points per game, Lawrence is one of only two teams in the conference (along with Beloit) that has four players averaging double-figures scoring. Caresse Reiland, Carrie Van Groll, Kelly Mulcahy, and Jenny Stoner have combined to score 83 percent of the Viking's points this season.

FILLING THE STAT SHEET: Lawrence's Caresse Reiland achieved a rare feat in the Viking's game against Monmouth last Friday. Reiland recorded a triple-double by scoring 16 points, grabbing 17 rebounds, and blocking 10 shots. She also added two assists and three steals in 35 minutes of play.
